PREFACE.

NOTHING is more common than for us poor Bards, when we have acquired a little Reputation, to print ourselves into Disgrace. We climb the Aonian Mount with Disficulty and Toil, we receive the Bays for which we languish'd; till grasping still at more, we lose our Hold, and fall at once to the Bottom.

THE Author of this Piece wou'd not thus be Felo de se, nor would he be murder'd by Persons unknown. But as he is satisfied, that there are many imperfect Copies of this Trisle dispers'd abroad, and as he is credibly inform'd, that he shall soon be expos'd to View in such an Attitude, as he would not care to appear in; He thinks it most prudent in this desperate Case to throw himself on the Mercy of the Public; and offer this whimsical Work a voluntary Sacrifice, in Hope that he stands rch tions stands a better Chance for their Indulgence, now it has receiv'd his last Hand, than when curtail'd and mangled by others.

THE Poets of almost all Nations have celebrated the Games of their several Countries. Homer began, and all the mimic Tribe follow'd the Example of that great Father of Poetry. Even our own MILTON, who laid his Scene beyond the Limits of this Sublunary World, has found Room for Descriptions of this Sort, and has perform'd it in a more sublime Manner, than any who went before him. His, indeed, are Sports, but they are the Sports of Angels. This Glentleman has endeavour'd to do Justice to his Countrymen the BRITISH Free-holders, who, when dress'd in their Holy-day Cloaths, are by no Means Persons of a despicable Figure, but eat and drink as plentifully, and fight as heartily, as the greatest Heroe in the Iliad. There is also some Use in Descriptions of this Nature since nothing gives us a clearer Idea of the Genius of a Nation, than their Sports and Diversions. If we see People dancing, even in wooden Shoes, and a Fiddle always at their Heels, we are foon convinced of the Levity and volatile Spirit of those merry Slaves. The famous Bull Feasts are an evident Taken of the Quixotism and romantic Taste of the SPANIARDS. And a Country Wake is too sad an Image of the Infirmities of our own People: We see nothing but broken Heads, Bottles flying about, Tables overturn'd, outrageous Drunkenness, and eternal Squabble.

THUS much of the Subject. It may not be improper to touch a little upon the Style. One of the greatest Poets and most most candid Critics of this Age, has inform'd us that there are two Sorts of Burlesque. Be pleas'd to take it in his own Words. SPECTATOR, Numb. 242. "Burlesque (Jays he) is of two "Kinds. The first represents mean Persons in the Accou-" trements of Heroes; the other, great Persons acting and " fpeaking like the basest among the People. Don QUIXOT " is an Instance of the first, and Lucian's Gods of the " fecond. It is a Dispute among the Critics, whether Bur-" lesque runs best in Heroic, like the Dispensary; or in Dog-" grel, like that of HUDIBRAS. I think where the low Cha-" racter is to to be rais'd, the Heroic is the most proper Mea-" fure; but where an Heroe is to be pull'd down and degrad-" ed, it is best done in Doggrel." Thus far Mr. Addison. If therefore the Heroic is the proper Measure, where the low Character is to be rais'd, MILTON's Style must be very proper in the Subject here treated of; because it raises the low Character more than is possible to be done under the Refiraint of Rhyme; and the Ridicule chiefly consists in raising that low Character. I beg leave to add the Authority of Mr. SMITH, in his Poem upon the Death of Mr. JOHN PHILIPS. The whole Passage is so very fine, and gives so clear an Idea of his Manner of writing, that the Reader will not think his Labour lost in running it over.

OH various Bard! you all our Pow'rs controul, You now diffurb, and now divert the Soul. MILTON and BUTLER in thy Muse combine, Above the last thy manly Beauties shine.

For as I've feen two Rival Wits contend, One gayly charge, one gravely wife defend; That on quick Turns, and Points in vain relies, This with a Look demure, and fleddy Eyes, With dry Rebukes, and fneering Praise replies. So thy grave Lines extort a juster Smile, Reach BUTLER's Fancy but furpass his Style. He speaks Scarron's low Phrase in humble Strains, In thee the folemn Air of great CERVANTES reigns. What founding Lines his abject Themes express! What shining Words the pompous Shilling dress! There, there my Cell, immortal made, outvies The frailer Piles, that o'er its Ruins rise. In her best Light the Comic Muse appears, When she with borrow'd Pride the Buskin wears. So when Nurse Nokes to act young Ammon tries, With chambling Legs, long Chin, and foolish Eyes, With dangling Hands he strokes th'imperial Robe, And with a Cuckold's Air commands the Globe. The Pomp, and Sound the whole Buffoon display'd, And Ammon's Son more Mirth than Gomez made.

But here it may be objected, that this Manner of Writing contradicts the Rule in Horace:

Versibus exponi tragicis res comica non vult.

Monsieur Boileau, in his Dissertation upon the Joconde of de la Fontaine, quotes this Passage in Horace, and observes, Que comme il n'y a rien de plus froid, que de conter une chose grande en stile bas, aussi n'y a't-il de plus ridicule, que de raconter une Histoire comique & absurde, en Termes graves & serieux. But then he justly adds this Exception to the general Rule in Horace; à moins que ce serieux ne soit affecté tout Exprés pour rendre la chose encore plus burlesque. If the Observation of that celebrated Critic, Monsieur Dacier, is true, Horace himself in the same Epistle to the Piso's, aud not sar distant from the Rule here mention'd, has aim'd to improve the Burlesque by the Help of the Sublimes in his Note upon this Verse.

Debemur Morti nos nostraque; sive receptus
Terrâ Neptunus.

And upon the five following Verses has this general Remark: Toutes ces Expressions nobles qu' HORACE entasse dans ce six vers servent à rendre plus plaisante cette Chute:

Ne dum Verborum stet Honos.

Car Rien ne contribue tant au Ridicule que se Grand. He indeed would be severe upon himself alone, who should censure this Way of Writing, when he must plainly see, that it is affected on Purpose, only to raise the Ridicule, and give b the Reader a more agreeable Entertainment. Nothing can improve a merry Table so much, as its being deliver'd with a grave and serious Air. Our Imaginations are agreeably surpris'd, and fond of a Pleasure so little expected. Whereas he, who would bespeak our Laughter by an affected Grimace and ridiculous Gestures, must play his Part very well indeed, or he will fall short of the Idea he has rais'd. It is true, VIRGIL was very sensible that it was difficult thus to elevate a low and mean Subject.

Nec sum animi dubius, verbis ea vincere magnum Quàm sit, & angustis hunc addere rebus Honorem.

But tells us for our Encouragement in another Place,

In tenui Labor, at tenuis non Gloria, siquem Numina læva sinunt, auditque vocatus Apollo.

Mr. Addison is of the same Opinion, and adds, that the Difficulty is very much increased by writing in Blank Verse. "The "English and French, says he, who always use the same "Words in Verse, as in ordinary Conversation, are forced to "raise their Language with Metaphors and Figures, or by the "Pompousness of the whole Phrase to wear off any Littleness," that appears in the particular Parts that compose it. This "makes our Blank Verse, where there is no Rhyme to support the Expression, extremely difficult to such as are not Masters of the Tongue; especially when they write upon low Subjects." Remarks upon Italy, p. 99." But there is even yet a greater Difficulty behind: The Writer in this Kind of Burlesque must not only keep up the Pomp and Dignity of the Style, but an artful Sneer should appear thro' the whole Work; and every Man will judge, that it is no easy Matter to blend together the Heroe and the Harlequin.

If any Person should want a Key to this Poem, his Curiosity shall be gratified; I shall in plain Words tell him, " It is " a Satire against the Luxury, the Pride, the Wantonness, and " quarrelsome Temper of the middling Sort of People." As these are the proper and genuine Causes of that barefac'd Knavery, and almost universal Poverty, which reign without Controul in every Place; and as to these, we owe our many bankrupt Farmers, our Trade decay'd, and Lands uncultivated; the Author has Reason to hope that no honest Man, who loves his Country, will think this short Reproof out of Season: For perhaps this merry Way of bantering Men into Virtue, may have a better Effect, than the most serious Admonitions; since many who are proud to be thought Immoral, are not very fond of being Ridiculous.

Here, when the distant Sun lengthens the Nights, When the keen Frosts the shiv'ring Farmer warn To broach his mellow Cask, and frequent Blasts Instruct the crackling Billets how to blaze, In his warm Wicker-Chair, whose pliant Twigs In close Embraces joyn'd, with spacious Arch Vault the thick-woven Roof, the bloated Churl Loiters in State, each Arm reclin'd is prop'd With yielding Pillows of the softest Down. To claim his kind Support: The helples Pair
In the same Cradle slept, nurs'd up with Care
By the same tender Hand, on the same Breasts
Alternate hung with Joy; 'till Reason dawn'd,
And a new Light broke out by slow Degrees;
Then on the Floor the pretty Wantons play'd, Gladding the Farmer's Heart, with growing Hopes,
And Pleasures erst unselt. When e'er with Cares
Oppress'd, when wearied, or alone he doz'd,
Their harmless Prattle sooth'd his troubled Soul.

Say, Hobbinol, what Extasses of Joy Trill'd thro' thy Veins, when climbing for a Kiss With littleP alms they strok'd thy grizly Beard, Or round thy Wicker whirl'd their ratt'ling Cars? Thus from their earliest Days bred up, and train'd, To mutual Fondness, with their Stature grew The thriving Passion. What Love can decay That roots fo deep! Now rip'ning Manhood curl'd On the gay striplings Chin; her panting Breasts, And trembling Blushes glowing on her Cheeks Her fecret Wish betray'd: She at each Mart All Eyes attracted; but her faithful Shade, Young Hobbinol, ne'er wander'd from her Side. A Frown from him dash'd ev'ry Rival's Hopes. For he, like Peleus Son, was prone to Rage, Inexorable, fwift like him of Foot With Ease cou'd overtake his dastard Foe, Nor spar'd the suppliant Wretch. And now approach'd Those merry Days, when all the Nymphs and Swains, In folemn Festivals and rural Sports, Pay their glad Homage to the blooming Spring. Young Hobbinol by joynt Consent is rais'd T'imperial Dignity, and in his Hand Bright GANDERETTA tripp'd, the jovial Queen Of Maia's gaudy Month, profuse of Flow'rs. From each enamel'd Mead th' attendant Nymphs Loaded with od'rous Spoils, from these select Each Flow'r of gorgeous Die, and Garlands weave Of party-colour'd Sweets; each bufy Hand Adorns the jocund Queen: In her loose Hair, That to the Winds in Wanton Ringlets plays, The tufted Cowslips breath their faint Perfumes. On her refulgent Brow, as Crystal clear, As Parian Marble smooth, Narcissus hangs His drooping Head, and views his Image there, Unhappy Flow'r! Pansies of various hue, Iris, and Hyacinth, and Asphodel, To deck the Nymph, their richest Liv'ries wear, And lavish all their Pride. Not FLORA's self More lovely smiles, when to the dawning Year Her op'ning Bosom heav'nly Fragrance breaths.

SEE on you verdant Lawn, the gath'ring Crowd

Thickens amain; the buxom Nymphs advance

Usher'd by jolly Clowns; Distinctions cease Lost in the common Joy, and the bold Slave Leans on his wealthy Master, unreprov'd: The Sick no Pains can feel, no Wants the Poor. Round his fond Mother's Neck the smiling Babe Exulting clings; hard by, decrepit Age Prop'd on his Staff, with anxious Thought revolves His Pleasures past, and casts his grave Remarks Among the heedless Throng. The vig'rous Youth Strips for the Combat, hopeful to fubdue The Fair one's long Disdain, by Valour now Glad to convince her coy erroneous Heart, And prove his Merit equal to her Charms. Soft Pity pleads his Cause; blushing she views His brawny Limbs, and his undaunted Eye, That looks a proud Defiance on his Foes. Refolv'd, and obstinately firm he stands, Danger, nor Death he fears; while the rich Prize Is Victory and Love. On the large Bough Of a thick-spreading Elm TWANGDILLO sits: One Leg on Ister's Banks the hardy Swain Left undifmay'd, Bellona's Light'ning scorch'd

His manly Visage, but in Pity left One Eye secure. He many a painful Bruise Intrepid felt, and many a gaping Wound, For brown Kate's Sake, and for his Country's Weal. Yet still the merry Bard without Regret Bears his own Ills, and with his founding Shell, And comic Phyz, relieves his drooping Friends. Hark, from aloft his tortur'd Cat-gut squeals, He tickles ev'ry String, to ev'ry Note He bends his pliant Neck, his fingle Eye Twinkles with Joy, his active Stump beats Time. Let but this fubtle Artist softly touch The trembling Chords, the faint expiring Swain Trembles no less, and the fond yielding Maid Is tweedled into Love. See with what Pomp The gaudy Bands advance in trim Array! Love beats in ev'ry Vein, from ev'ry Eye Darts his contagious Flames. They frisk, they bound: Now to brisk Airs, and to the speaking Strings Attentive, in Mid-way the Sexes meet; Joyous their adverse Fronts they close, and press To strict Embrace, as resolute to force

And storm a Passage to each others Heart: 'Till by the varying Notes forewarn'd, back they Recoil disparted: Each with longing Eyes Pursues his Mate retiring, 'till again The blended Sexes mix; then Hand in Hand Fast lock'd, around they fly, or nimbly wheel In Mazes intricate. The jocund Troop Pleas'd with their grateful Toil, inceffant shake Their uncouth brawny Limbs, and knock their Heels Sonorous; down each Brow the trickling Balm In Torrents flows, exhaling Sweets refresh The gazing Croud, and heav'nly Fragrance fills The Circuit wide. So danc'd in Days of Yore, When ORPHBUS play'd a Lesson to the Brutes, The list'ning Savages; the speckled Pard Dandled the Kid, and with the bounding Roe The Lion gambol'd. But what heav'nly Muse With equal Lays shall GANDERETTA fing, When Goddess-like she skims the verdant Plain Gracefully gliding? Ev'ry ravish'd Eye The Nymph attracts, and ev'ry Heart she wounds, Thee most, transported Hobbinot! Lo, now,

Now to thy op'ning Arms she skuds along,

With yielding Blushes glowing on her Cheeks,

And Eyes that sweetly languish; but too soon,

Too soon, alas! she slies thy vain Embrace,

But slies to be pursu'd; nimbly she trips,

And darts a Glance so tender, as she turns,

That with new Hopes reliev'd, thy Joys revive,

Thy Stature's rais'd, and thou art more than Man.

Thy stature's rais'd, and more majestic Air,

And ev'ry sprightly Motion speaks thy Love.

Who faw their Mightiest fall'n, and in his Fall Their Honours past impair'd, their Trophies won By their proud Fathers, who with fcorn look'd down Upon the subject Vale, sullied, despoil'd, And level'd with the Dust, no longer bear The keen Reproach. But as when fudden Fire Siezes the ripen'd Grain, whose bending Ears Invite the Reaper's Hand, the furious God In footy Triumph rides dreadful, upborn On Wings of Wind, that with destructive Breath Feed the fierce Flames, from Ridge to Ridge he bounds Wide-wasting, and pernicious Ruin spreads: So thro' the Croud from Breast to Breast swift flew The propagated Rage; loud vollied Oaths, Like Thunder bursting from a Cloud, gave Signs Of Wrath awak'd. Prompt Fury foon supplied With Arms uncouth; tough well-feason'd Plants Weighty with Lead infus'd on either Host Fall thick, and heavy; Stools in Pieces rent, And Chairs, and Forms, and batter'd Bowls are hurl'd With fell Intent; like Bombs, the Bottles fly Hissing in Air, their sharp-edg'd Fragments drench'd

In the warm spouting Gore; Heaps driv'n on Heaps Promiscuous lie. Tonsorio now advanc'd On the rough Edge of Battle, his broad Front Beneath his shining Helm secure, as erst Was thine, MAMBRINO, stout Iberian Knight! Defied the rattling Storm, that on his Head Fell innocent. A Table's ragged Frame In his Right-Hand he bore, Herculean Club! Crouds, push'd on Crouds, before his potent Arm Fled ignominious; Havock, and Difmay, Hung on their Rear. Collin a merry Swain, Blithe as the foaring Lark, as fweet the Strains Of his foft warbling Lips, that whist'ling chear His lab'ring Team, they tofs their Heads well pleas'd, In gaudy Plumage deck'd, with stern Disdain Beheld this Victor proud; his gen'rous Soul Brook'd not the foul Difgrace. High o'er his Head His pond'rous Plough-Staff in both Hands he rais'd, Erect he stood, and stretching ev'ry Nerve, As from a forceful Engine, down it fell Upon his hollow'd Helm, that yielding funk Beneath the Blow, and with its sharpen'd Edge

Shear'd both his Ears, they on his Shoulders broad Hung ragged. Quick as Thought the vig'rous Youth Short'ning his Staff, the other End he darts Into his gaping Jaws. Tonsorio fled Sore maim'd; with pounded Teeth and clotted Gore Half-choak'd, he fled; with him the Host retir'd Companions of his Shame; all but the stout, And erst unconquer'd HILDEBRAND, brave Man! Bold Champion of the Hills! thy weighty Blows Our Fathers felt difmay'd; to keep thy Post Unmov'd, whilom thy Valour's Choice, now fad Necessity compels; decrepit now With Age, and stiff with honourable Wounds, He stands unterrified; one Crutch sustains His Frame Majestic, th'other in his Hand He wields tremendous; like a Mountain Boar In Toils inclos'd, he dares his circling Foes. They shrink aloof, or soon with Shame repent The rash Assault, the Rustic Heroes fall Harris de bereit de mer et In Heaps around. Cupdy a dext'rous Youth, When Force was vain, on fraudful Art relied: Close to the Ground low-cow'ring, unperceiv'd,

Cautious he crept, and with his crooked Bill
Cut sheer the frail Support, Prop of his Age:
Reeling a while he stood, and menac'd sherce
Th' insidous Swain, reluctant now at length Fell prone and plough'd the Dust. So the tall Oak,
Old Monarch of the Groves, that long had stood
The Shock of warring Winds, and the red Bolts
Of angry Jove, shorn of his leafy Shade
At last, and inwardly decay'd, if chance
The cruel Woodman spy the friendly Spur,
His only Hold; that sever'd, soon he nods,
And shakes th' incumber'd Mountain as he falls.

WHEN Manly-Valour fail'd, a Female Arm

Restor'd the Fight. As in th' adjacent Booth

Black CINDARAXA's busy Hand prepar'd

The smoaking Viands, she beheld, abash'd,

The routed Host, and all her dastard Friends

Far scatter'd o'er the Plain; their shameful Flight

Griev'd her proud Heart, for hurried with the Stream

Ev'n Talgol too had sled, her darling Boy.

The greafy Heroine fnatch'd, o'er her pale Foes The threat'ning Meteor shone, brandish'd in Air, Or round their Heads in ruddy Circles play'd. Across the prostrate HILDEBRAND she strode Dreadfully bright: The Multitude appall'd Fled diff'rent Ways, their Beards, their Hair in Flames. Imprudent she pursu'd, 'till on the Brink Of the next Pool, with Force united press'd, And waving round with huge two handed Sway Her blazing Arms, into the muddy Lake The bold Virago fell. Dire was the Fray Between the warring Elements, of old Thus Mulciber, and Xanthus Dardan Stream In hideous Battle joyn'd. Just finking now Into the boiling Deep, with suppliant Hands She beg'd for Life; black Oufe and Filth obscene Hung in her matted Hair: The shouting Crowd Infult her Woes, and proud of their Success, The dripping Amazon in Triumph lead. Now, like a gath'ring Storm, the rallied Troops Blacken'd the Plain, Young TALGOL from their Front, With a fond Lover's hafte, fwift as the Hind,

That by the Huntsman's Voice alarm'd, had fled, Panting returns, and feeks the gloomy Brake, Where her dear Fawn lay hid, into the Booth Impatient rush'd. But when the fatal Tale He heard, the dearest Treasure of his Soul Purloin'd, his Cindy lost; stiff'ned and pale A while he stood, his kindling Ire at length Burst forth implacable, and injur'd Love Shot Lightning from his Eyes; a Spit he seiz'd, Just reeking from the fat Surloyn, a long, and A pulled and Unwieldy Spear; then with impetuous Rage Press'd forward on th'embattled Host, that shrunk At his Approach. The rich Avaro first, and the state of the His fleshy Rump bor'd with dishonest Wounds, Fled bellowing; nor cou'd his num'rous Flocks, Nor all th' aspiring Pyramids, that grace and to be all the His Yard well stor'd, fave the penurious Clown. Here Cubbin fell, and there young Collakin. Nor his fond Mother's Pray'rs, nor ardent Vows Of Love-sick Maids cou'd move relentless Fate. With many an Inroad gor'd. Then cast around His furious Eyes, if haply he might find The captive Fair; her in the Dust he spied Grov'ling, disconsolate; those Locks, that erst So bright, shone like the polish'd Jet, defil'd With Mire impure; thither with eager hafte He ran, he flew. But when the wretched Maid Proftrate he view'd, deform'd with gaping Wounds And welt'ring in her Blood, his trembling Hand Soon drop'd the dreaded Lance; on her pale Cheeks Ghastly he gaz'd, nor felt the pealing Storm, That on his bare defenceless Brow fell thick From ev'ry Arm; o'erpower'd at last, down sunk His drooping Head, on her cold Breast reclin'd. Hail, faithful Pair! if ought my Verse avail, Nor Envy's Spite, nor Time shall e'er efface The Records of your Fame; blind British Bards, In Ages yet to come, on festal Days Shall chant this mournful Tale, while lift'ning Nymphs Lament around, and ev'ry gen'rous Heart With active Valour glows, and virtuous Love. How blind is pop'lar Fury! how perverse,

When Broils intestine rage, and Force controuls Reason and Law! As the torn Vessel finks Between the Burst of adverse Waves o'erwhelm'd; So fares it with the neutral Head, between Contending Parties bruis'd, inceffant peal'd With random Strokes that undifcerning fall; Guiltless he suffers most, who least offends. Mundungo from the bloody Field retir'd, Close in a Corner plied the peaceful Bowl; Incurious he, and thoughtless of Events, Now deem'd himself conceal'd, wrapt in the Cloud That isfu'd from his Mouth, and the thick Fogs That hung upon his Brows; but hostile Rage Inquisitive found out the rusty Swain. His short black Tube, down his furr'd Throat impell'd, Stagg'ring he reel'd, and with tenacious Gripe The bulky Jordan, that before him stood, Seiz'd falling; that its liquid Freight disgorg'd Upon the proftrate Clown, flound'ring he lay Beneath the muddy Bev'rage whelm'd, fo late His prime Delight. Thus the luxurious Wasp, Voracious Infect, by the fragrant Dregs Allur'd, and in the viscous Nectar plung'd, His filmy Pennons struggling slaps in vain, Lost in a Flood of Sweets. Still o'er the Plain Fierce Onset, and tumultuous Battle spread; And now they fall, and now they rife, incens'd With animated Rage, while nought around Is heard, but Clamour, Shout, and Female Cries, And Curses mix'd with Groans. Discord on high Shook her infernal Scourge, and o'er their Heads Scream'd with malignant Joy; when lo! between The warring Hosts appear'd Sage RHADAMANTH, A Knight of high Renown. Nor Quixor bold, Nor Amadis of Gaul, nor Hudibras, Mirror of Knighthood, e'er cou'd vie with thee, Great Sultan of the Vale! Thy Front fevere, As humble Indians to their Pagods bow, The Clowns submiss approach. Themis to thee Commits her golden Balance, where she weighs Th' abandon'd Orphan's Sighs, the Widows Tears, By thee gives fure Redress, comforts the Heart Oppress'd with Woe, and rears the suppliant Knee. Encompass'd round with these his dreadful Guards, He spur'd his sober Steed, grizled with Age, And venerably dull; his Stirrups stretch'd Beneath the Knightly Load; one Hand he fix'd Upon his Saddle Bow, the other Palm Before him spread, like some grave Orator In Athens, or free Rome, when Eloquence Subdu'd Mankind, and all the lift'ning Crowd Hung by their Ears on his persuasive Tongue. He thus the jarring Multitude address'd.

Perceiv'd his kind Intent, slip'd on one Side Declining; the vain Stroke from fuch an Height, high sand and With fuch a Force impell'd, headlong drew down Th' unwieldy Champion: On the folid Ground He fell rebounding; breathless, and astunn'd, His Trunk extended lay; fore maim'd, from out His heaving Breast, he belch'd a crimson Flood. Full leifurely he rose, but conscious Shame Of Honour loft his failing Strength renew'd. Rage, and Revenge, and ever-during Hate, Blacken'd his stormy Front; rash, furious, blind, And lavish of his Blood, of random Strokes He laid on Load; without Design or Art Onward he press'd outrageous, while his Foe Encircling wheels, or Inch by Inch retires, Wise Niggard of his Strength. Yet all thy Care, O Hobbinol! avail'd not to prevent One hapless Blow; o'er his strong Guard the Plant Lapp'd pliant, and its knotty Point impress'd His nervous Chine; he wreath'd him to and fro Convolv'd, yet thus distress'd, intrepid bore His Hilts aloft, and guarded well his Head.

But Mirth confus'd, and undiftinguish'd Joy,
And Laughter far resounding; serious Care
Found here no Place, to Ganderetta's Breast
Retiring; there with Hopes, and Fears perplex'd
Her sluctuating Mind. Hence the soft Sigh
Escapes unheeded Spight of all her Art;
The trembling Blushes, on her lovely Cheeks,
Alternate ebb, and flow; from the sull Glass
She slies abstemious, shuns th' untasted Feast.
But careful Hobbinol, whose am'rous Eye
From hers ne'er wander'd, haunting still the Place Where his dear Treasure lay, discover'd soon
Her secret Woe, and bore a Lover's Part.

Compassion melts his Soul, her glowing Cheeks
He kiss'd, enamour'd, and her panting Heart
He press'd to his; then with these soothing Words, Tenderly smiling, her faint Hopes reviv'd.

"COURAGE, my Fair! the splendid Prize is thine.

- " Indulgent Fortune will not damp our Joys,
- " Nor blaft the Glories of this happy Day.
- " Hear me, ye Swains! Ye Men of Kiftsgate! hear:
- " Tho' great the Honours by your Hands conferr'd,
- " These royal Ornaments, tho' great the Force
- " Of this puissant Arm, as all must own,
- "Who saw this Day the bold Gorgonius fall;
- "Yet were I more renown'd for Feats of Arms,
- " And knightly Prowess, than that mighty Guy,
- " So fam'd in antique Song, Warwick's great Earl,
- " Who slew the Giant Colbrand, in fierce Fight
- " Maintain'd a Summer's Day, and freed this Realm
- " From Danish Vassalage; his pond'rous Sword,
- " And massy Spear, attest the glorious Deed;
- " Nor less his hospitable Soul is seen
- " In that capacious Cauldron, whose large Freight

- " Might feast a Province: Yet were I like him
- " The Nation's Pride, like him I cou'd forego
- " All earthly Grandeur, wander thro' the World
- " A jocund Pilgrim, in the lonesome Den,
- " And rocky Cave, with these my royal Hands
- " Scoop the cold Stream, with Herbs, and Roots content,
- " Mean Sustenance; cou'd I by this but gain,
- " For the dear Fair, the Prize her Heart desires.
- " Believe me, charming Maid! I'd be a Worm,
- " The meanest Insect, and the lowest Thing,
- " The World despises, to enhance thy Fame."

So chear'd he his fair Queen, and she was chear'd.

Now with a noble Confidence inspir'd,
Her Looks assure Success, now strip'd of all
Her cumb'rous Vestments, Beauty's vain Disguise,
She shines unclouded in her native Charms.
Her plaited Hair behind her in a Brede
Hung careless, with becoming Grace each Blush
Varied her Cheeks, than the gay rising Dawn
More lovely, when the new-born Light salutes
The joyful Earth, impurpling half the Skies.

Her heaving Breast, thro' the thin Cov'ring view'd, Fix'd each Beholder's Eye; her taper Thighs, And Lineaments exact, wou'd mock the Skill Of Phidias; Nature alone can form Such due Proportion. To compare with her Oread, or Dryad, or of Delia's Train, Fair Virgin Huntress, for the Chace array'd With painted Quiver, and unerring Bow, Were but to lessen her superiour Mien, And Goddess-like Deport. The Master's Hand, Rare Artifan! with proper Shades improves His liv'ly Colouring; fo here, to grace Her brighter Charms, next her upon the Plain Fusca the Brown appears, with greedy Eye Views the rich Prize, her tawny Front erects Audacious, and with her Legs unclean, Booted with Grime, and with her freckled Skin Offends the Crowd. She of the gypfy Train Had wander'd long, and the Sun's fcorching Rays Imbrown'd her Visage grim; artful to view The spreading Palm, and with vile Cant deceive The Love-fick Maid, who barters all her Store,

For airy Visions and fallacious Hope. GORGONIUS, if the current Fame say true, Her Comrade once, they many a merry Prank Together play'd, and many a Mile had ftrol'd, For him fit Mate. Next TABITHA the tall Strode o'er the Plain, with huge Gigantic Pace, And overlook'd the Crowd, known far and near For matchless speed; she many a Prize had won, Pride of that neighb'ring * Mart, for Mustard fam'd, Sharp-biting Grain, where amicably join The Sifter Floods, and with their liquid Arms Greeting embrace. Here Gamaliel sage, Of Cameronian Brood, with ruling Rod Trains up his Babes of Grace, instructed well In all the gainful Discipline of Pray'r, To point the holy Leer, by just Degrees To close the twinkling Eye, t'expand the Palms, T'expose the Whites, and with the fightless Ball To glare upon the Crowd, to raife, or fink The docile Voice, now murm'ring foft and low With inward Accent calm, and then again

In foaming Floods of rapt'rous Eloquence, Let loose the Storm, and thunder thro' the Nose The threat'ned Vengeance: Ev'ry Muse prophane Is Banish'd hence, and Heliconian Streams Deserted, the fam'd Leman Lake supplies More plenteous Draughts, of more divine Import. Hail, happy Youths! on whom indulgent Heav'n Each Grace divine bestows, nor yet denies Carnal Beatitudes, sweet Privilege Of Saints elect! Royal Prerogative! Here in domestic Cares employ'd and bound To annual Servitude, frail TABITHA Her pristin Vigour lost, now mourns in vain Her sharpen'd Visage, and the fickly Qualms That grieve her Soul; a Prey to Love, while Grace Slept heedless by: Yet her undaunted Mind Still meditates the Prize, and still she hopes, Beneath th' unwieldy Load, her wonted Speed. Others of meaner Fame the stately Muse Records not, on more lofty Flights intent She spurns the Ground, and mounts her native Skies.

ROOM for the Master of the Ring; ye Swains! Divide your crowded Ranks. See! there on high The glitt'ring Prize, on the tall Standard born, Waving in Air; before him march in Files The rural Minstrilfy, the rattling Drum Of folemn Sound, and th' animating Horn, Each Huntsman's Joy; the Tabor and the Pipe, Companion dear at Feafts, whose chearful Notes Give Life, and Motion to th' unwieldy Clown. Ev'n Age revives, and the pale puking Maid Feels ruddy Health rekindling on her Cheeks, And with new Vigour trips it o'er the Plain. Counting each careful Step, he Paces o'er Th' allotted Ground, and fixes at the Goal His Standard, there himself majestic swells. Stretch'd in a Line, the panting Rivals wait Th' expected Signal, with impatient Eyes Measure the Space between, and in Conceit Already grasp the warm-contested Prize. Now all at once rush forward to the Goal, And Step by Step, and Side by Side, they ply

Their busy Feet, and leave the Crowd behind. Quick heaves each Breast, and quick they shoot along, Thro' the divided Air, and bound it o'er the Plain. To this to that capricious Fortune deals Short Hopes, short Fears, and momentary Joy. The breathless Throng, with open Throats pursue, And broken Accents shout imperfect Praise. Such Noise confus'd is heard, such wild Uproar, When on the Main the swelling Surges rife, Dash o'er the Rocks, and hurrying thro' the Flood, Drive on each others Backs, and crowd the Strand. Before the rest tall TABITHA, was seen, or discoult whom along Stretching amain, and whirling o'er the Field; Swift as the shooting Star, that gilds the Night With rapid transient Blaze, the runs, the flies; Sudden she stops, nor longer can endure The painful Course, but drooping finks away, And like that falling Meteor, there she lies A Jelly cold on Earth. Fusca with Joy, Beheld her wretched Plight; o'er the pale Corse Infulting bounds; Hope gave her Wings, and now Exerting all her Speed, step after step,

At GANDERETTA's Elbow urg'd her Way, Her Shoulder pressing, and with poys'nous Breath Tainting her Iv'ry Neck. Long while had held The sharp Contest, had not propitious Heav'n With partial Hands to fuch transcendent Charms Dispens'd its Favours. For as o'er the Green The careless Gypsy, with incautious Speed, Push'd forward, and her Rival Fair had reach'd With equal Pace, and only not o'erpass'd; Haply she treads, where late the merry Train, In wasteful Luxury, and wanton Joy, Lavish had spilt the Cyder's froathy Flood, And Mead with Custard mix'd. Surpriz'd, appall'd, And in the treach'rous Puddle struggling long, She slip'd, she fell, upon her Back supine Extended lay; the laughing Multitude With noify Scorn approve her just Difgrace. As the slick Lev'ret skims before the Pack, So flies the Nymph, and so the Crowd pursue. Born on the Wings of Wind the dear one flies, Swift as the various Goddess, nor less bright In Beauty's Prime; when thro' the yielding Air

Paints the gay Clouds; celestial Messenger, Charg'd with the high Behests of Heav'n's great Queen!
Her at the Goal with open Arms receiv'd
Fond Hobbinol; with active Leap he seiz'd
The costly Prize, and laid it at her Feet.
Then pawsing stood, dumb with Excess of Joy,
Expressive Silence! for each tender Glance
Betray'd the Raptures, that his Tongue conceal'd.
Less mute the Crowd, in echoing Shouts, applaud
Her Speed, her Beauty, his obsequious Love.

O'erlook'd the Plain, a Steep, but short Ascent,
Plac'd in a Chair of State, with Garlands crown'd,
And loaded with the Fragrance of the Spring,
Fair Ganderetta shone; like Mother Eve
In her gay Sylvan Lodge, delicious Bow'r!
Where Nature's wanton Hand, above the Reach
Of Rule, or Art, had lavish'd all her Store,
To deck the flow'ry Roof; and at her Side,
Imperial Hobbinol, with Front sublime,

CANTO III.

Great as a Roman Conful, just return'd Description of the same of From Cities fack'd, and Provinces laid waste, In his paternal Wicker fate, enthron'd. With eager Eyes the Crowd about them press, Ambitious to behold the happy Pair. Each Voice, each Instrument, proclaims their Joy With loudest Vehemence: Such Noise is heard, Such a tumultuous Din, when, at the Call Of Britain's Sovereign, the Rustic Bands O'erspread the Fields; the subtil Candidates Dissembled Homage pay, and court the Fools Whom they despise; each proud majestic Clown Looks big, and shouts amain, mad with the Taste Of Pow'r Supreme, frail Empire of a Day! That with the fetting Sun extinct is loft.

Nor is thy Grandeur, mighty Hobbinol!

Of longer Date; short is, alas! the Reign

Of mortal Pride: We play our Parts a while,

And strut upon the Stage; the Scene is chang'd,

And offers us a Dungeon for a Throne.

Wretched Vicissitude! for after all

His tinsel Dreams of Empire and Renown, Fortune, capricious Dame, withdraws at once The goodly Prospect, to his Eyes presents Her, whom his conscious Soul abhorr'd and fear'd. Lo! pushing thro' the Crowd, a meagre Form, With hafty Step, and Visage incompos'd! Wildly she star'd; Rage sparkled in her Eyes, And Poverty fate shrinking on her Cheeks. Yet thro' the Cloud, that hung upon her Brows, A faded Lustre broke, that dimly shone Shorn of its Beams, the Ruins of a Face, Impair'd by Time, and shatter'd by Misfortunes. A froward Babe hung at her flabby Breaft, And tug'd for Life; but wept, with hideous Moan, His frustrate Hopes, and unavailing Pains. Another o'er her bending Shoulder peep'd Swaddled around with Rags of various Hue. He kens his Comrade-Twin, with envious Eye, As of his Share defrauded; then amain He also Screams, and to his Brother's Cries, In doleful Confort joins his loud Laments. O dire Effect of lawless Love! O Sting

Of Pleasures past! As when a full-freight Ship, Elest in a rich Return of Pearl, or Gold, Or fragrant Spice, or Silks of costly Die, Makes to the wish'd-for Port with swelling Sails, And all her gaudy Trim display'd; o'erjoy'd The Master smiles; but if from some small Creek, A lurking Corfair the rich Quarry spies, With all her Sails bears down upon her Prey, And Peals of Thunder from her hollow Sides Check his triumphant Course; aghast he stands, Stiffen'd with Fear, unable to refift, And impotent to fly; all his fond Hopes Are dash'd at once; nought now, alas! remains But the fad Choice of Slavery, or Death. So far'd it with the hapless Hobbinol, In the full Blaze of his triumphant Joy Surpris'd by her, whose dreadful Face alone Cou'd shake his stedfast Soul. In vain he turns, And shifts his Place averse; she haunts him still, And glares upon him with her haggard Eyes, That fiercely spoke her Wrongs. Words swell'd with Sighs At length burst forth, and thus she storms enrag'd.

Born on the Wings of Fear away she bounds, And in the neighb'ring Village pants, forlorn. So the cours'd Hare to the close Covert flies, Still trembling, the' fecure. Poor Hobbinol More grievous Ills attend, around him press A Multitude, with huge Herculean Clubs, Terrific Band! the Royal Mandate these Infulting shew: Arrested, and amaz'd, Half dead he stands; no Friends dare interpose, But bow dejected to th' Imperial Scroll. Such is the Force of Law. While conscious Shame Sits heavy on his Brow, they view the Wretch To Rhadamanth's august Tribunal drag'd.
